November 4, 2016 à€” Hello everyone! I am using Windows 10 on my laptop and have installed Autodata 3.40. When I want to open it to use, I get the following message.... Autodata 3.40 x86. After opening the application, a dialog box opens and an error message appears. "The application is not a Windows application. Windows cannot open this application" I am using Windows 10 and have installed Autodata 3.40 x86. I was using WinHex and tried to open the file as "Autodata.hex". When I do that it opens and shows a dialog box. I checked that I enabled "Allow access to hidden folders". I couldn't find a solution. Does anyone know what I should do?
